[illegible text]

THE numerous Complaints, Annually made, of the lateness of the time, ere this Book is publish'd, Has this Year (with view of hastening it a Month,) induced me to alter the method of it.

For as the Rule, in preceeding Years, pursued, was distinguishing the Sport into Counties; it from hence always fell out, that a part thereof, which took place first, did not succeed till very late in the Season, that 'twas impossible to proceed to print till almost all the Sport was over.

In particular, by this rule, Newmarket always began the Book; so that at soonest it could not go to the Press till the Month of October was expir'd.

I have therefore this Year (in order to avoid this inconveniency) digested the Sport into a method of time; distinguishing no part thereof, but by the Months and Days on which it respectively succeeded.

I have often been urged to attempt this Method, to the end, Gentlemen (without taking the trouble of examining the whole Book over) might at once discover the Sport of each respective Month, in order to fit, assign, or appoint their Horses accordingly.

As therefore this Method will answer their Purposes, in these respects;

And always give Opportunity of putting the Book sooner to the Press, and consequently of getting it out considerably (at least a Month or six Weeks) earlier; I hope the said Method will not be disagreeable to any Subscriber.

J. C.

12 JU 62

N. B. The Alphabetical List at the End of the Book, is form'd into Counties,

Distinguishing at one view, the Places of Sport (in the respective Year, as well as referring to them,) of each particular County.
